

Organized by Ghent University with the support of the European College of Veterinary Public Health

SAVE THE DATE

Online biosecurity training

26 & 30 April 2021

5, 10 & 12 May 2021

Prevention is better than cure!

In 2021, the Biocheck team of Ghent University will organize an online training on biosecurity in livestock production (pig, poultry, cattle), with support of the ECVPH college. The training will be divided into five sessions, including theoretical principles as well as practical implementations and e-learning exercises.

Join us for each morning sessions on 26 and 30 April, 5, 10 and 12 May 2021!

Webinar 1: The five principles of biosecurity

Webinar 2: Practical implementation of external biosecurity measures

Webinar 3: Practical implementation of internal biosecurity measures

Webinar 4: Quantification of biosecurity on farm-level + (virtual) farm visit

Webinar 5: Evaluation and discussion

The training is free of charge for ECVPH-residents and can be added to your program for the college. More practical details to come.

In the meantime, have a look at our website or our YouTube video.

The Biocheck.UGent team